

How did Goldsborough get its name.

A farm family who had a goat called Goby. One day there was a jester and his goats had a golden egg into Goby's mouth. And Goby was chomping on the golden egg.

The farm family found Goby chomping on the golden egg and said Goldsborough should be our last name.

One day two brothers were fighting saying your last name is rubbish so is yours.

And one hour ago everyone got into a fight and the clock was still on and everyone forgot and the house set on fire.

And sadly died and some inspectors came to see and they were the best inspectors we've ever had and we've been.

And then they saw Goby and he was still chomping and they said Goldsborough should be our school name are are they village name.
